

Carol packed her clothes. She put them in a small pink case. Then she put in her toothbrush. Last, she packed her small pillow. It was her favorite. She could not sleep without it. Then Carol went down the stairs. "Mom, I am ready to go," said Carol.

"Good," said Mom. "Put your things in the car. Then I will take you to Granny's house." Carol went to the car. She put her things in. Then they were off. She was going to spend the night at Granny's house.

Granny lived in Hayville. It took a long time to drive there. Carol had a coloring book. She colored a picture for Granny. It was a picture of the beach.

Soon they were at Granny's house. It was old and white. Granny had a big flower garden. The flowers were pretty. Carol hugged Mom good-bye. "I will see you in the morning," said Carol. She waved. Mom drove away.

Granny took Carol inside. "You may go swim. I will make us some lunch. We can eat by the pool, if you like," said Granny. Carol put on her swimsuit. Then she went to the pool in the backyard. She jumped into the water. Splash! The water was cold. It felt good because the summer sun was hot.

Granny came out to the pool. She had a tray. On the tray were sandwiches and fruit. Granny also had some iced tea. Carol got out of the pool. She dried off. Then she sat down with Granny to eat lunch.

After lunch she and Granny picked berries. They grew in the yard. They were small and purple. They used the berries to make a cobbler. A cobbler is like a pie. But it is not round. It is square.

That night Granny and Carol watched a movie on TV. It was about men from Mars. Carol was scared. Granny said it was not real. It was just make-believe. Then Carol got ready to go to bed. She put on one of Granny's nightgowns. Granny had many nightgowns. Some had lace. Others were silky. They made Carol look like a grownup. Carol also wore Granny's slippers. They were gold and very fancy.

The next morning Mom came. "Did you have fun?" she asked. "I sure did," said Carol. "I always have fun at Granny's." Then she kissed Granny. "Thank you for such a nice time," said Carol. "I will see you soon!"

Carol packed her clothes. She put them in a small	10
pink case. Then she put in her toothbrush. Last, she	20
packed her small pillow. It was her favorite. She	29
could not sleep without it. Then Carol went down the	39
stairs. "Mom, I am ready to go," said Carol.	48
"Good," said Mom. "Put your things in the car.	57
Then I will take you to Granny's house." Carol went to	68
the car. She put her things in. Then they were off.	79
She was going to spend the night at Granny's house.	89
Granny lived in Hayville. It took a long time to	99
drive there. Carol had a coloring book. She colored a	109
picture for Granny. It was a picture of the beach.	119
Soon they were at Granny's house. It was old and	129
white. Granny had a big flower garden. The flowers	138
were pretty. Carol hugged Mom good-bye. "I will see	148

you in the morning," said Carol. She waved. Mom	157
drove away.	159
Granny took Carol inside. "You may go swim. I	168
will make us some lunch. We can eat by the pool, if	180
you like," said Granny. Carol put on her swimsuit.	189
Then she went to the pool in the backyard. She jumped	200 into the water. Splash! The water was cold. It felt	210
good because the summer sun was hot.	217
Granny came out to the pool. She had a tray. On	228
the tray were sandwiches and fruit. Granny also had	237
some iced tea. Carol got out of the pool. She dried off.	249
Then she sat down with Granny to eat lunch.	258
After lunch she and Granny picked berries. They	266 grew in the yard. They were small and purple. They	276
used the berries to make a cobbler. A cobbler is like a	288
pie. But it is not round. It is square.	297

That night Granny and Carol watched a movie on	306
TV. It was about men from Mars. Carol was scared.	316
Granny said it was not real. It was just make-believe.	327
Then Carol got ready to go to bed. She put on one of	340
Granny's nightgowns. Granny had many nightgowns.	346
Some had lace. Others were silky. They made Carol	355
look like a grownup. Carol also wore Granny's	363
slippers. They were gold and very fancy.	370
The next morning Mom came. "Did you have	378
fun?" she asked. "I sure did," said Carol. "I always	388
have fun at Granny's." Then she kissed Granny.	396
"Thank you for such a nice time," said Carol. "I will	407
see you soon!"	410